NRND Notification

Dear Valued Customer:

As part of our on-going product life cycle management process, our XFHCL20xx series of high-current inductors will be immediately transitioned to NRND (Not Recommended for New Designs) status.

No direct replacement will be provided or alternate suggested and there are no plans to replace or offer an alternative to these products at this time. XFMRS will continue to supply and support these products indefinitely in existing designs and currently ongoing requests. XFMRS will not entertain any new requests, nor will XFMRS add any manufacturing capacity for these products.

Thank you for your understanding.

Sincerely,

XFMRS Team
